Newsletter #1: Hello

Hello Everyone!

If you're getting this newsletter it's because you signed up for it on the Roman Anton website. Some of you may have signed up a longtime ago in the space that looked like this:

My apologies for taking so long to get the first Roman Anton Newsletter #1 to you.

As you may already know, Roman Anton has been active in Bangkok, Thailand for many years now. If you explore the website again at www.romananton.com you will see all of the projects we have been working on. We breakdown our website with these headers: Art, Creations, Music and Words. What this means is simple. We make and sell original art work. That art relates to other products like t-shirts and hats. The art and products then relate to our original music. Our original music, art and products relate to a fictional work we call words.

ART

CREATIONS

MUSIC

WORDS

And there is so much more on the website.

We launched our podcast a little while back and we are approaching our 50th podcast episode, which launches from our website and is also found on YouTube.

WATCH HERE

We also have the Roman Anton Club. In the Club you will find In-House Posts (about the band, the gear and more) and Club Posts (about shows and venues).

Back to Music. The Roman Anton music releases are called Launches. The music is special in that we release each Launch with ten songs, nine originals and one cover. In addition, we have created a music book to go along with each Launch. Launch I is called Tierra Del Fuego. For Tierra Del Fuego there is a Music Book and a soon to release Novel of the same name. The Music book has the sheet music for the original music, along with lyrics and simple chord charts along with photos and a song summary. The Novel is about a once in a lifetime road trip.

That's all for now other than I offer my sincere apologies for taking so long to get back to you.

I am looking forward to writing Newsletter #2.

Until then, all the best.
